

The Halloween Ball

Includes
Stickers

Disney
Junior

The Halloween Ball

Written by Lisa Ann Margoli

Illustrated by Character Building Studio and the Disney Storybook Artists

Disney PRESS
New York • Los Angeles

If you purchased this book without a cover, you should be aware that this book is stolen property. It was reported as "unsold and destroyed" to the publisher, and neither the author nor the publisher has received any payment for this "stripped" book.

Sofia is so excited. King Roland and Queen Miranda—Dad and Mom—are throwing a Halloween ball!

Everybody will create a fancy costume to wear--and even better, there will be prizes! Sofia can't wait to get started!

Amber really wants to win the Best Costume prize.
"I'm going to be a peacock," she tells Sofia.
"I'm sure you'll be the prettiest peacock ever!" says Sofia.

Amber tries to make her prize-winning costume.
But the feathers end up everywhere except on her skirt.
And with her hat on, she looks more like a rooster than a peacock.

Amber goes to find Sofia for help.

"Can you make my costume look like this?"

Amber says, holding out her sketch.

"I'll do my best!" Sofia says with a smile.

First Sofia carefully stitches some pretty feathers to Amber's skirt and a pink cape.

Then she creates a matching cap of feathers.

Sofia leads Amber to the mirror. "Ta-da!" she cries.
Amber gives Sofia a hug when she sees herself. "Thank you!"
she says. "I'm going to win the prize for sure!"

Now Sofia has to make her own fairy costume.
First she stitches together a fancy skirt. Next she glues on sparkly wings.

To finish it off, she makes a tiny crown of flowers. It's perfect!

Sofia can't wait to wear her costume to the ball!

The day of the Halloween ball finally arrives.
But when Amber sees Sofia in her costume, she gets upset. Her sister's costume is even better than hers!

"I'll just have to make my costume fancier,"
Amber says under her breath.

First she'll add more feathers . . . and she knows just where to find them.

On his way to the party, James spots Amber outside with the peacocks.

"What in the world are you doing?" he calls down to her.
"It's time for the ball!"

With an armful of feathers, Amber rushes back to the castle.
But on the way, she slips and falls into a muddy puddle!

Meanwhile, all the guests have arrived and are waiting in the ballroom.

"Where is Amber?" Sofia asks James.

Sofia follows a trail of muddy footprints to Amber's room.

"What happened?" asks Sofia.

"I was jealous of your costume," Amber explains.

"And I wanted to make mine better. I'm sorry."

"I understand," says Sofia softly, nodding.

"Now look at me," says Amber. "I can't go to the ball!"

"Yes, you can," says Sofia. "We'll think of something. I don't want to go without you."

After a minute, Sofia cries, "I've got it! I can share my costume with you!"

"I don't understand," Amber replies, shaking her head.

"You will," says Sofia.

Sofia has the perfect plan. She begins to take her costume apart, and in no time, she has a matching costume for Amber!

"See?" says Sofia.

"Now we're both fairies!" cries Amber.

"Twin fairies!" Sofia replies.
"Twin sister fairies!" adds Amber with a smile.

The girls hurry to the ballroom and arrive just in time for the costume parade!

The judges, Flora, Fauna, and Merryweather, watch closely as each child walks by.

Maya's rainbow costume wins the prize for Prettiest Costume.
Jin's jester costume wins the prize for Silliest Costume.
And the Best Costume prize goes to Khalid's dragon.

"Actually, there is one last prize," says Flora, "for the Most Thoughtful Costume."

Merryweather smiles as she presents the trophy to Sofia and Amber.

Now the sisters share a costume and a prize!

"But my real prize," says Amber, "is having a sister I can count on!"

$5.99 US/$6.50 CAN

It's time for the annual Halloween ball, and both Sofia and Amber are hoping to win the Best Costume prize. But when Amber's costume gets ruined, will Sofia be willing to help?

ISBN 978-142317144-7

EAN
S

Disney
Junior

Disney PRESS © 2013 Disney Enterprises, Inc.